GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATING NICARAGUAN CASE

Wants to Be Sure in What Capacity Executed Americans Were Operating Before Taking Action.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—The delay on the part of the United States in taking any action with respect to the killing by order of President Zelaya of Nicaragua of the two Americans, Grace and Cannon, it developed yesterday, is occasioned by the inability of the Government up to this time to fix the exact status in Nicaragua of the slain men.

It was explained that every effort was being made through Government agencies to determine whether these men were in fact members of the revolutionary army or whether they were acting on their own responsibility at the time they were captured. If it can be proven, as seems very doubtful, that they were really responsible for the planting of mines for the purpose of blowing up troop ships of the Nicaraguan government and were acting in this matter on their own responsibility, their status would be very different from what it would be were they acting as a part of the revolutionary forces.

Will Aid Revolutionists.

The American vice-consul at Managua, Henry Caldera, has been instructed to obtain all possible information on this subject and it is believed that other agencies have also been employed for the same purpose. Until this information is received, it is doubtful if the United States will take any steps looking to the chastisement of Zelaya beyond putting itself in a position to act promptly should occasion require it.

It is believed that plans for the concentration of warships and marines on the Nicaraguan coast will continue and it may be that this show of force will have a marked effect in stimulating the energies and hopes of the revolutionists and result in large accessions to their army from the disaffected portions of the country now being held by Zelaya's army.

Navy Ready for Business.

The navy department is in a condition of preparedness for any eventuality. Overtime work has resulted in putting the troop ship Prairie, now at the Philadelphia navy yard, in a condition to sail at any moment after Thursday of this week, with 400 marines who are immediately available for transportation to Nicaragua. If necessary this number can be increased within a few hours' notice to 700 or even 800.

Although the naval officials disclaim any knowledge of what the State Department is doing in a diplomatic way in connection with the Nicaraguan situation, it is known that they are hourly in expectation of receiving orders to direct the Prairie to sail and they would not be in the least surprised if other warships were ordered to the Nicaraguan coast.

A new boat service has been added to the list of St. Petersburg's attractions for the pleasure and convenience of the traveling public. The Green Springs Boat Line have put on the Juanita, a strictly passenger and mail boat, said to be the fastest on the bay, being able to make the trip to Green Springs from St. Petersburg in forty-five minutes.

Fearful That 100 Miners May Never Be Found

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 24.—Hope that there might still be alive some of the men known to be entombed in the St. Paul coal mine was abandoned yesterday.

An exploration into what is known as the second vein, where it was thought probably miners had barricaded themselves and managed to exist on corn and corn kept there for mules, showed that great portions of the tunnels had collapsed.

It is thought that many men were entombed under debris and that if the destruction is not soon cleared away at least 100 bodies may never be recovered. Fire is still raging in these tunnels, and these portions of the mine in which imprisoned miners might have found a retreat are said to be full of the fatal black damp.

The death yesterday of one of the survivors brought to the surface last Sunday reduced to 19 the total number of those saved out of the 310 entombed by the fire a week ago Saturday. No bodies were found yesterday.

The explorers met with great difficulties. In one instance fire broke out in a tunnel temporarily cutting off the escape of 25 men who were about 400 feet from the hoisting shaft. The smell of smoke gave the men above and fresh men rescued the entombed.

Following a telegram sent to Governor Jones by the executive board of the miners' State organization, asking that some one man be designated in charge of the mine. Mine inspector Hector McAllister was placed in charge of the exploring work. Despite the fire and the falling in of tunnels, the work of clearing the mine will be pushed night and day.

168 Bodies Were Discovered.

Cherry, Ills., Nov. 24.—Practically all the bodies of the men who perished in the Cherry disaster were found this morning on the staircase at the mouth of the third or lower level.

One hundred and sixty-eight bodies were found, leaving about a score to be accounted for. The bodies were in a great tangled mass, completely blocking the staircase.

Leading from the third to the second vein they were scattered along the vein, where they had dropped before reaching the stairway. Black damp was the cause of death. All means to escape was blocked by debris falling and covering the top of the staircase.

The men died as they tried to push through obstructions or in waiting vainly for the rescuers. Death evidently did not come to many for hours, if not days. Two rude wooden ventilating fans, fashioned after the same manner as those found two days ago in the second gallery, were affixed to the shaft wall and stairway. They turned these by hand in their frantic struggle for air, and in a hopeless effort to brush back the black damp. The hands of one miner were found firmly gripped about the fan.

COUNTY TEACHERS WILL MEET TODAY

ALACHUA COUNTY TEACHERS WILL BE IN SESSION HERE.

Convention Will Last Two Days, and Many Subjects of Importance Will Be Discussed.

Beginning tonight, the people of Gainesville will have an opportunity for two days of being entertained with one of the largest and most interesting educational conventions ever known in the county, being the session of the Alachua County Teachers' Association. The membership extends to every section of the county, and includes some excellent talent along educational lines. The indications at present are that the convention will be largely attended by the teachers of the county, as the convention is held under direction of the Board of Public Instruction, and circular letters have been mailed to all teachers instructing them to be present.

In connection, the program has been provided with some rare literary treats in the nature of addresses by some of the leading educators of the State, who will address the convention on matters instructive and important.

Dr. J. L. Kelley, County Superintendent of Schools, who has accomplished probably more than any one of his predecessors, has exercised an extra effort to make this program one of exceptional quality, as he selected as speakers those who stand high in the educational circles of the State.

Tomorrow afternoon Dr. Hiram Byrd, of the State Board of Health, and one of the most widely-known men in his profession in the South, will deliver an address. It is not known what the subject of this address will be, but it is surmised, as has been intimated, that it will be confined to the hookworm—a subject which is being so thoroughly discussed throughout the country at the present time.

Among other prominent speakers and educators will be Dr. A. A. Murphree, president of the University of Florida, and Dr. John A. Thaxton, also of the University.

Dr. Kelley, who is also regarded as a fine speaker, well-posted on matters educational, will favor the convention with an address Friday, which means a literary treat for those who hear him. In fact, all who have been assigned to places on the program are good, and the people of Gainesville should not hesitate to attend. Their presence will not only encourage education, but will also prove enlightening, and it is to be hoped that the auditorium of the Gainesville Graded and High School, where the exercises will be held, will be well filled at each session.

Following is the program:

"How I Deal With the Bad Boy"—

CONGRESSMAN'S HEROIC EFFORT TO SAVE CHILD

Statesman's Arms Locked Around Body of Little Grandson When Found in Fire's Ruins.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 24.—It was in a vain effort to save the life of his little grandson that Congressman David A. DeArmond of the Sixth Missouri district, perished in a fire that destroyed his home in Butler, Mo., early yesterday.

His act of heroism became known late in the afternoon, when his body was found, his arms locked around the blackened and burned body of the little boy. He had caught up the six-year-old David A. ("Waddle") DeArmond, Jr., and rushed with him through the flames that filled his room. He fell with his unconscious burden, and both sank through the floor to death.

What makes the tragedy unusually pathetic is the fact that the boy was his grandfather's idol. The two were inseparable and often slept together. Monday night the boy went to his grandfather's house as usual and after a happy evening the two retired.

The next the family heard of them was early yesterday when, from behind the smoke and flames that enveloped the house, the boy screamed: "Oh, grandpa, get me out of here quick. I'm burning to death."

"Yes, son, don't be afraid. Grandpa'll take you out," was the reply. Then both went down to their death.

The others of the family sleeping in the house at the time of the fire, Mrs. DeArmond, her daughter, Mrs. Clark, and maid, Nettie Boles, escaped.

Messages of condolence from all parts of the country were received by the DeArmonds yesterday afternoon.

James A. DeArmond, editor of The Bates County Democrat, son of the Congressman and father of the boy who burned to death, tried to rush into the burning house to save them but was prevented by others who knew his sacrifice would be in vain.

The DeArmond home was a large two-story frame structure set well back from the street. On two sides of the house equal with the second floor four rooms or outdoor sleeping apartments had been constructed and at the time fire broke out the occupants of the house occupied these rooms.

The financial loss is placed at $20,000 and included one of the best libraries in the State.

Besides James DeArmond, the sons of the dead Congressman are Edward H., an instructor at West Point, and Lieut. George W. DeArmond, now serving with the army in the Philippines. Mrs. Clark is a daughter.

Congressman DeArmond and his little grandson will have a double funeral on Friday. Burial will be in the Oak Hill cemetery at Butler.

Messages of condolence were received from Speaker Cannon and from President Taft. The latter sent the following message to Mrs. DeArmond: "Mrs. Taft and I are shocked to hear the dreadful news. We sympathize most deeply with you in your sorrow. Your husband and I were very intimate. I valued his friendship most highly. He was an honest, able servant of the public and a patriot. My heart goes out to you in your loss."

Miss Pattie R. Lane and M. C. McIntosh.

"The Importance of Regular Attendance, and How to Be Secured"—A. D. Kean and E. R. Simmons.

"School Athletics or the Educational Value of Play"—T. J. Poppell and Mamie E. Williams.

"The Value of Literary Societies"—Misses Vallie Grace and Mae Morrow.

Reception at residence of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Kelley from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m.

8:00 p. m.—Address by Dr. Hiram Byrd, of the State Board of Health.

Black Hand Dynamite Does $50,000 Damage

DANVILLE, Ills., Nov. 24.—A charge of dynamite, weighing perhaps twenty-five pounds, was exploded under the fruit and wine house of Joseph Mascari here early yesterday, demolishing five buildings and doing damage amounting to $50,000.

Buildings north and south of Mascari's store were wrecked. Plate glass windows in every building within three squares were shattered. Gun cotton and bits of the fuse were found nearly two blocks away.

Mascari charged members of the black hand society with the dynamiting, but declined to say whether he had received their threatening letters. Two men were seen running from the vicinity of the building two minutes before the explosion. The police have descriptions of them.

The explosion shook every building and resident in the downtown section. Hundreds of people, aroused from sleep, believed there had been an earthquake. The ruins caught fire, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

No one was killed in the explosion. The police arrested Tony Palmisano in connection with the affair but released him after they were convinced that he was in no way concerned.

A THANKSGIVING PRAYER

CLORINDA, in the meeting house
The worthy parson prays,
And goodly thanks he gives for these Most prosperous of days.
Your stately parents on their ways
Besought you not to stay,
But hasten with your meed of praise
On this Thanksgiving day.

Clorinda, oh, I watch you go
In flowered satin dressed;
You wear my heart upon your sleeve
That all the town may jest,
And when you kneel among the rest
Give thanks for this, I say:
You've not the grief that tears my breast
On this Thanksgiving day.

Clorinda of the rose red lips
That laugh me into scorn,
Must I alone mid happy folk
Be saddest of men born?
Ah, give me, sweet, this gracious morn
The word I needs must pray,
And grant unto a swain forlorn
A real Thanksgiving day.
—Theodosia Garrison.

ABE'S THANKSGIVING PUDDING

The Tidbit That Delighted a Black Boy's Heart.

"Granny, is Thanksgivin' day for us poo' colored pussons as well as for de rich ladies you wash fur?"

"Why, Abe Lincoln, chile, what is you talkin' about? Hab I done brung you up to ask sich fool questions?
Don't de good Lord say as how we mus' be thankful for our marches ebbery day?" answered the old woman, looking up from her ironing board at her small grandson, who was paring potatoes by the stove.

"But, granny, you said as we be too poo' for any sort o' puddin', and ef we got cabbage an' bakin dat's all we might 'pect, an' I do lub a puddin' mighty well." And Abe seemed ready to set up a wall of sorrow.

"It am a fearful sin to lub a puddin'.
De good book says you mus' lub your enemies, boy, but it don't gib us no 'courage to keef fur tings fur our stomach," granny replied severely.

"I ain't got no enemies to lub 'cept de boys on de nex' street dat calls me 'de bowlegged nigger kid,' an' I can't lub 'em as much as a pud-din' nohow. I do so want real bad de sort Miss Gray done sent me las Kis-mus when I broke my leg."

"Plum puddin'! Well, you air mighty 'bitious to want dat, but you keep on with your potatoes, an' granny will see what she kin do," declared she more kindly as she stared at her crippled little grandson, the last one left of her once large family. "I'll done gib Abe Lincoln a spree," she thought as with a flash of joy she called to mind a pudding of the old time.

And this is the pudding that delighted little Abe's heart on Thanksgiving and made him feel as if he, too, participated in the feasts and good things of the day:

Cut up two cups of bread fine, half a cup of chopped suet, half a cup of molasses, one egg, one cup of raisins, one cup of sweet milk in which half a teaspoonful of soda is dissolved, half a teaspoonful of cloves, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, a pinch of mace and salt. Boil two hours in a tin pudding boller, Eat with foaming sauce, which is made thus: Beat half a cup of butter to a cream, add one cup of granulated sugar and stir until it is white and foaming. Just before serving pour on one cup of boiling water and stir a moment.—Christian Work.

The Sun office for calling cards.

Farewell,
my friends,
a long farewell, I bid you one and all, for on this glad Thanksgiving Day, I hear the bugle call; I feel the chilly shivers running up and down my back, for never will I feast again; ah me, alas! Alack! All summer long I've wandered o'er the hill and in the vale, ne'er dreaming that the thread of life was wove so very frail, oblivious all of butchers and of dinner parties gay, where voices rise in praises on this glad Thanksgiving Day. How proudly have I held aloft my head in days gone by when I'd strut beside some puny bird less known to fame than I; how often in the barnyard have I pecked a rooster gay, because he felt important, sir, and got into my way. And when I'd filled my empty crop with the corn laid out for me, I'd feel as happy as a lord—as any king could be; and I'd stroll across the barnyard to some cool, secluded nook, or perhaps enjoy a pebble lunch by the swiftly running brook. I loved to bathe in Mother Earth and keep my feathers clean, for a turkey in his gaudy dress is proud as any queen; and when at night I roosted high, my head beneath my wing, I dreamed of little turkeys and the joy they yearly bring, to all their mamma turkeys and their papa turkeys too, and in their turn rear little ones to hatch their broods anew. But all my dreams are shattered now; life's hopes for me are dead, and ere you read this mournful rhyme my spirit will have fled to a happy clime where hungry men live on plainer food, and they, like turkeys, find delight in simply doing good. And so this rhyme comes to an end; it's down close to my tail, I beg your pardon, gentle sir, for this, my mournful wall; but while I wish you as you dine, most copious draughts of joy,
just think a moment how you'd feel were I feasting on your boy.

Thanksgiving Conundrums.

Here is a collection of conundrums which may be served up while the tur-

What part of the turkey assists my

What part of the turkey opens the front door? Last part—key.

What part of the turkey will appear on Wednesday, Dec. 1? Bill.

What part of a turkey is part of a sentence? Claws (clause).

What part of a turkey is used for cleaning purposes? Wings (for dusters).

What part of a turkey does the farmer watch with anxiety? The crop.

Why is the man who eats too fast like a turkey? Both are gobblers.

What part of the turkey is an oriental? The first part—Turk.

Why ought the turkey to be ashamed when he is being served? Because we see the turkey dressing.

What color gets its name from the turkey? Turkey red.

When the turkey is cooking, in what country is he? In Greece.

Our Thanksgiving Pie.

Oh, pumpkin, smiling on the vine,
I ween, a handsome fellow!
But listen to these words of mine
Which I'm about to tell, oh!

"All, all is vanity, I trow."
Thus truly saith the preacher,
And vanity is lurking now
In every pumpkin feature.

I grant thou hast a mellow cheek
And very fairly rounded.
But on that happy fact this week
Thy downfall will be founded.

Since thou'rt so handsome on the vine
(Which well I can't deny, oh!),
Methinks thou sure wilt look divine
In our Thanksgiving pie, oh!

—Elsie Parrish.

EXCITING GAME AT PARK TODAY

U. OF F. AND STETSON WILL MEET
TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Both Elevens Strong, and Fine Game Assured—DeLand Will Bring Special Train of 200.

The Florida football team will have something "sure enough" to go up against this afternoon, when they tackle the Stetson eleven for the honors of the State championship, which event will be pulled off on the local gridiron, this afternoon. Stetson is coming, and coming strong, and, as Assistant Coach Botts of Stetson stated in a letter to The Sun a day or two ago, DeLand is proud of her team, and Gainesville folks had "better look out." The team is coming by special train, and will be accompanied by about two hundred of DeLand's faithful, who have their hearts set on victory, and nothing shorter than victory. While here the team and their friends will make their headquarters at the White House, where arrangements have been made to accommodate them.

Florida is in excellent condition. The team has had considerable practice, and Coach Piles and his men feel confident of a victory, though they realize that they will be up against the real thing in football. The team has enjoyed the distinction of securing a victory in the majority of games this season, but realize if they win out today it will be through expert playing—and they believe they can put up the goods.

DeLand is coming strong, and it is the duty of every citizen of Gainesville, whether they understand the game or not, to be present and "root" for the University, because it encourages the team a great deal. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock, and the admission will be fifty cents.

Hurrah for the Gainesville Guards! The squad from the Guards were winners of the first prize, comprising $150 in gold and a trophy, in the competitive squad drill, open to all States of the Union, in Jacksonville Tuesday night, and to cap the climax, Private Frie of the squad captured the prize as the most efficient drilled soldier in the individual contest.

The squad has been drilling for some time under the direction and instruction of First Sergeant C. R. Layton, and their victory in this contest is a great compliment to that official, under the command of whom the squad went to Jacksonville to enter the contest.

The people of Gainesville will congratulate Sergeant Layton and his men, and they should be tendered a reception on account of this signal victory.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

Will Be Held at Methodist Church Today—Sermon by Dr. Clear.

A union Thanksgiving service for all the people of Gainesville will be held at the Methodist church this morning, beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

This is an occasion when the citizens and whole population are invited to make acknowledgment as a city of God's goodness, and offer sincere thanksgivings to Him for the many blessings of the year now drawing to a close.

According to the order adopted by the Ministerial Association, this annual service will be held in the Methodist church, and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. J. Clear, pastor of the Baptist church.

A Thanksgiving offering will be made for the relief of the poor of the city, to be distributed under the judicious discretion of the charity association. There are several cases of real, present and pressing need in the city, and the treasury of the association is empty. Let the offering be large.

THOS. P. HAY,

Pres. Ministerial Association.

Hon. Christopher Matheson, treasurer of the charity association, has made the following report:

During the year ending November 24th, 1909, the charity association has paid out for charitable purposes the sum of $31.90, leaving a balance on hand of only $7.22.

As the principal source of this fund is the collection at the union service on Thanksgiving Day, our people of Gainesville are asked to contribute liberally at this service today.

At the Episcopal Church.

There will be a Thanksgiving service at the church of the Holy Trinity this (Thursday) morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. C. W. Krauff, Priest-in-charge. All welcome.

Will Go By Special.

Through the courtesy of the Seaboard Air Line, a special train has been provided to convey the University of Florida football team and their friends to Waldo Friday morning, where they will catch the regular train for Tallahassee. The rate for the round trip will be $6.16, and those who desire to accompany the boys may avail themselves of this rate. The train will leave Gainesville at 3:30, connecting at Waldo.

The University boys will entertain Tallahassee people with a game between Florida and the Capital City boys Saturday.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

The Sun cannot guarantee the insertion of advertisements in the Sunday issue unless the copy is handed in early Friday morning. This also applies to changes in advertisements already running in the paper.

Canada is evidently desirous of being represented at the next naval pageant.

The football and hunting fatalities are doing something to offset the gains in immigration.

The admiration sometimes felt for good men is, unfortunately, not always followed by imitation.

Some men think they have genius when they have only conceit, and the mistake brings them lots of trouble.

After all, the best way we can show our thankfulness is by cheerful obedience to divine laws, by being exemplary citizens, and by helpful service to our fellows.

If during these long evenings parents were more careful as to the whereabouts of their children and the character of their associates there would be fewer recruits for the gambling den and the underworld.

To worry over things that cannot be remedied is useless and to worry over things that can be remedied is unnecessary. It is foolish to worry anyway you look at it, for it stands in the way of one's happiness and welfare.

Some people are sadly wanting in good manners and regard for the feelings of others. By their ill-breeding, sharp tongues and lack of consideration they often do considerable harm to others, but the harm they do themselves is even greater.

It is a mistake to suppose that the world owes most of its progress to a few master minds. That they have contributed greatly to its achievements no one will dispute. Nevertheless it is to the faithful humble work and true lives of the many in every generation that the world has made and is making its greatest improvement.

"The harvest is past, and the summer is ended," and many a man is wondering where all his summer wages have gone. Probably the saloon or the gambling den furnish the answer in many cases. Anyway the winter is at hand and lots of people who have had good wages through the summer and harvest have nothing left with which to face winter's storm and cold in the larger cities.

Now that better times have come people should be careful not to give way to the temptations of extravagance or they will be unprepared for hard times when they again come round. To spend more than a dollar for every dollar received means debt and misery; to save something out of every dollar means preparedness, freedom from anxiety and happiness. A few cents on the dollar either way makes all the difference.

WHY DO WE GIVE THANKS?

As we look backward on the year, and on the years, why should we be thankful? For life, its pleasures, its enjoyments, its good; for its sorrows and disappointments even, for are they not often part of the ministry of heaven to make us better? For friends, for parents, for children, and for the Great Friend who leaves us not when others sometimes fail.

For the kindly fruits of the earth which have come to us, the products of our labor conjoined with the blessing of God. For who of us, of himself alone, can make one ear of corn, one leaf? For our fathers who won for us the right of self-government. For peace and the prospect of greater peace must we as a nation give thanks. A wide peace which will forever brood over the three nations on this continent giving an example and inspiration to the less favorably situated people of the old world, and lifting them up we hope to its emulation.

For the spirit of progress, for the reform of old evils, for the pruning of corruption from the body politic we can give thanks; not only for good accomplished but for the augury of greater and better things to come. For our churches and our schools, and for the millions of happy pure homes which dot this continent. For the fact that we are not a nation of the past, a decaying nation, but a nation of the present and the future. For the great openings up of Nature's wondrous secrets which seem now to be coming upon us. For larger, clearer, healthier thought, and for the old truth, old and ever new, that this God is our God for ever and ever. He will be our guide even unto death.

The citizens of Washington, it is feared, have become enervated through a long dependence upon the Federal Government. A convention hall has long been a necessity at the Capital. A perpetual procession of leagues, societies and congresses from all parts of the country seek the Capital as the arena for discussion and exploitation of their views. There is no large suitable audience chamber there such as there is in Denver, in St. Louis, in Chicago, and in many other cities. Washington has advantages over all these in libraries, museums, art galleries, monuments and shrines. An effort by the citizens to build a convention hall has, apparently, failed, and now a George Washington Memorial Association has been organized in New York with Senator Root, Dr. Weir Mitchell, Prof. Agassiz, General Horace Porter and the president of Johns Hopkins University as promoters. It is thought that a million and a half dollars will be necessary to complete the undertaking.

People who charge the laboring classes with being addicted to intemperance would do well to consider the attitude of such leaders as John Mitchell, J. B. Lennep, T. L. Lewis and other respected labor leaders on the temperance question. At the recent meeting in Toronto of the American Federation of Labor they vividly depicted the evils of drink and the great benefits of temperance, and in that they evidently voiced the sentiments of the majority of the intelligent working classes.

A citizen is not necessarily running down the place in which he lives just because he points out its shortcomings. It is sometimes advisable to do that in order to awaken a needed public spirit. But to dwell upon its shortcomings in hostile or critical tone and suggest no remedy is something that no one will do who really desires the prosperity of his town.

THE PROPHET'S VISION.

Now we are coming nigh to the year's close. We can see the great festival of Christmas which crowns it, only a few weeks ahead, and the great Puritan festival of Thanksgiving is already upon us. Did old Governor Bradford, when, at the end of the first hard year of the Pilgrim's coming to this continent, he counted up half their number slain by disease and hardship, and yet on the other hand counted up their blessings of preservation to the colony, and hope for future—did he strike the balance right when he then ordered not a day of fasting, but a day of Thanksgiving? Did he have a snapshot's vision, to see beyond those inhospitable forests, those prowling savages, that iron-bound coast? Had he the vision of the coming today, when, instead of the weak few, should be the strong nation of eighty millions? Whether this prophet's vision was his or not, certain it is that he builded well when to all succeeding generations he gave the example of the great American family feast-day of Thanksgiving.

We all deplore lynch law and mob rule, but the best way to prevent such doings is to choose proper men to office and to see to it that law is enforced and respected. Unquestionably the notorious and frequent miscarriage of justice is responsible for the lamentable outbreaks of violence that occur from time to time. If communities could only be certain that justice would be promptly done in the case of prisoners whose guilt is clearly established, the law of the land would be quietly allowed to take its course. But, unfortunately, the criminal history of our land is crowded with instances of notorious criminals escaping scot free through bribery, political influence and other disreputable methods.

LIFE TOLydia E. Pinkham's

Vienna, W. Va.—"I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief.
My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.
Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH.

Dr. Christian Delivered Two Fine Sermons to Large Congregations.

The largest congregation of the series greeted Dr. Christian yesterday morning. He preached a most helpful sermon and was listened to with intense interest.

"The Widow's Oil" was the subject.
The preacher made a tremendous appeal for personal work, showing vividly that each person was responsible for the success of this meeting to the extent of his or her ability.
He emphasized this fact that the question was not will sinners be saved, but will we unless we are doing all in our power to save them. When we quit using the talents God has given us for His glory, He withdraws.

At night Dr. Christian preached to a large congregation of deeply interested people. His subject was "The Man Who Won't Burn Because He Cannot Burn."

One marvelous display of the supernatural was the clear insight and apparent perfect understanding of local conditions and character, as displayed in this sermon.

Our hearts did burn within us as the searchlight of the gospel was turned upon us.

Services today at 9:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. You are invited.

McINTOSH—ROBERTSON.

Marriage of Popular Young Couple at Methodist Church Wednesday.

A wedding of unusual interest transpired at the First Methodist church Wednesday at noon, the contracting parties being Mr. Fulwood G. McIntosh and Miss Gertrude Robertson, both well-known young society people of this city.

The announcement of this approaching marriage several weeks ago was made, which was the signal for the greatest interest among the young society set, and a half-hour before the time set for the ceremony the commodious church was crowded to the doors with friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Carpenter, formerly pastor of the church here but now of Tampa.
The attendants were Mr. William Mc-Kinstry and Miss Kittle Carlsle and the bride's brother, Mr. C. S. Robertson, gave her away.

Shortly after the ceremony the happy couple left for South Florida, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The happy pair have the congratulations of a large number of friends, who trust that their lives may be one long chapter of conjugal bliss.

ON TO JACKSONVILLE.

Tampa-Jacksonville Contestants Left in Good Spirits.

The contestants in the Tampa to Tampa, via Jacksonville, endurance run, resumed their journey at an early hour Wednesday morning, after spending a most restful night at the White House, where they were entertained.

The first car, which was the confetti or pacing car, left at 6:30, and other cars followed as rapidly as they could be registered and checked out.

A rather amusing incident occurred during the early morning, when one of the "early birds" appeared at the garage, presented his check and asked for his car.

"I tell you, boys," he remarked, with a yawn which was evident that he was not accustomed to crawl out of bed with the chickens, "I've been used to living pretty good all my life (and he looked it) but I don't feel like traveling much today. I like good things to eat, but in the name of goodness, I never had such 'lay-out' in my life as I was compelled to 'butt' into last night. There was plenty of everything, and the best, and a fellow just had to keep eating and eating to be polite, and when I got through with that spread I felt that I would never want another bite to eat in my life.
When I went to bed I dreamed about turkeys and other things, and one time I actually saw a great, big old gobbler come right up and pick at my nose and smile in my face.

"But, boys," he continued, "without a joke, that dinner tasted to me like the best I ever had in my life—and I believe it was."

A vote of thanks was tendered Major Thomas, together with the efficient force, for the excellent service, and every man left the White House not only a friend of Gainesville, but the hotel.

Walter Beeman, who drove Car No.
8, was the winner of the coat-sweater offered by L. J. Burkheim as the first man to reach Gainesville on the race.

DEATH OF MR. RAMSEY.

Old and Well-Known Resident Passed Away at His Home Wednesday.

One of the saddest deaths to occur in North Gainesville for a long time was that of Henry Ramsey, which occurred at his home about noon Wednesday, after an illness of a few days.
The direct cause of his death was inflammation of the bowels.

Deceased was about fifty-five years of age, and a native of London, England. He came to America about twenty-three years ago, and has since been a resident of Gainesville. He was a man of exceptionally fine character, and his many friends regret exceedingly his death.

Deceased is survived by a wife and four children, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 9 o'clock this morning.
Dr. T. F. Thomas having charge of the arrangements. Being a member of the Methodist Church, the services will be conducted by Rev. F. R.
Bridges.

Friends of the family are invited.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamp

THE THANKSGIVING BASKET

BOB placed the big basket between his feet on the floor and looked out of the window of the train.

In Bob's basket was a big Thanksgiving turkey, a surprise for the folks at home. There was no turkey in the basket which a man who sat next to Bob placed on the floor between his feet. What was in it Bob discovered when he undertook to surprise the folks at home. He surprised them all right enough, but he surprised himself also, for he found that he and the man had somehow changed baskets and that instead of a turkey he had brought home a bottle attached to a fine boy baby.

Dire was Bob's disappointment, for the turkey his mother in his absence had provided was far inferior to the one he had unwittingly exchanged for the baby.

Bob's mother took the baby to her arms and her heart, and, to her credit be it said, she did so before she ascertained that the clothing and ornaments of the little stranger indicated that it was a baby of distinction.

"One of the Four Hundred," she said to her husband.

"No doubt the four hundred and first," he laughed, in spite of having just lost his job.

Next morning, however—Thanksgiving morning—his face wore a different expression. Grave determination shone from his eyes.

"I must be off at once," he said to his wife, "to look for another job."

"On a holiday!" she exclaimed.

"The sooner the better," said he, and he scarcely more than skimmed his newspaper except the columns of "Help Wanted—Males."

"Nothing there," he observed, with a sigh. "Never mind, mother; there's something somewhere, and I'll find it."

Scarcely had he gone when Bob picked up the paper and in a moment more gave a shout.

"There! You've waked the new baby," said his mother, hurrying to the rescue.

"Listen to this! It's the very baby, I do believe."

It was a short dispatch from Mayville, sent out late the previous night, to the effect that Mr. Ray's son and heir was missing with his nurse, and great fears were entertained that the child had been stolen and was being held for ransom.

Then came a knock on the hall door which checked Bob in a war dance. He opened it and was almost brushed down by the man of the railway cars, who was standing there with a big basket on his arm and who dashed into the room like a wild man.

"Here's your wretched turkey!" he cried. "Oh, you're the boy who changed baskets with me, are you? Lucky your address was on that basket. And here's the infant, the beloved baby. If you've not treated it well I'll prosecute you for kidnapping!"

"I say," cried Bob, at last finding his wits, "leave that basket and the baby too! I know all about 'em. It's you that's the kidnaper! Help! Police! Po-o-l-a-ugh-gr-r!"

He hardly got out one yell before the man was upon him with a furious bound, almost choking the breath out of him. "Do that again," he growled, "and I'll kill you!" And he threw the boy into a corner and darted out of the house with the baby, locking the door from the outside.

Bob picked himself up from the floor and tried the door. It yielded nothing. Then he got a chair and pulled himself up to the transom. In a second he was through it, hatless, dusty, choked and panting, but thirsting for revenge. Down the stairs he leaped, three at a time.

Up the street, unmindful of other boys, he darted. Half a block down the avenue he saw a street car plunging along, and on the rear platform stood the kidnaper with the wrapped up baby in his arms. Bob had not a cent for car fare, but he dashed after the car as if he owned the street.

The car gained on him in spite of all effort, but the man did not seem to have observed him. At last it shot out of sight, but Bob did not falter. He was not far from the ferry, where the car stopped.

The boy got there, almost exhausted, but determined still. A ferryboat was just going out. Regardless of a big policeman and a ticket seller, he darted past them on to the pier and down planks like a bullet, with the policeman beblud him on an elephantine charge, and caught the boat just as it was beginning to move from the slip.

Now, who should be on the boat but Mr. Ray himself, just going home after a hurried visit to police headquarters. Bob's desperate spring for the deck had made him an object of general attention, and his cry of "That man's a kidnaper!" diverted it to the man with the baby in his arms.

Seeing himself detected, the man, still holding the child, sprang from the rear of the boat into the water. Bob unhesitatingly sprang after him. On the deck everything was in confusion on the instant, and Mr. Ray's voice in tones of strong emotion, dominating the babel, had such an effect that the wheels were stopped, the baby and Bob rescued and the kidnaper hauled on board the police boat, which appeared among a crowd of others. Bob is now one of Mr. Ray's most trusted and best paid salesmen, and the whole family have an indefinite prospect of turkey dinners on every Thanksgiving day to come.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A "TURKEY DRUNK."

An Old Time Thanksgiving Custom Which Is Happily Now Obsolete.

"I remember when I was a boy that one of the great features of Thanksgiving time was what we called the 'turkey drunk,'" says a native of western New York. "Folks didn't seem to kill their Thanksgiving turkey in those days until the forenoon of the day it was to be eaten, and it was the custom to get the bird most gloriously drunk and kill it while it was in that condition. They used to say that it made the turkey's last moments on earth happy and made its approaching death a matter of unconcern to the bird. More than that, it was believed that the brandy they filled the turkey up with gave the meat a flavor that no bird that died sober could ever have. I don't know whether that was so, but I do know that I can't get any turkey nowadays that has the peculiarly delicious flavor those brandy-soaked birds of my beloved boyhood had. The turkey drunk was a great occasion. It was witnessed by the whole family and all the invited guests, if there were any. Two hours before killing the turkey the head of the family would fill a teacup or a tin cup or sometimes a small gourd with brandy. This he would take out to the poultry yard where the turkey which was to provide the Thanksgiving dinner would be cooped up by itself in one corner and place it on the ground in front of the turkey. Those fowls appeared to be fond of brandy, and the doomed bird would gobble up the intoxicating liquor with the relish of a confirmed old toper. Sometimes a particularly large and fat turkey would drink the entire contents of the cup.

"As soon as the bird was through drinking it would be let out of its coop, and in less than three minutes it would be staggering about the yard with as elegant a jig on as any rounder ever enjoyed. If the victim was a gobbler his efforts to maintain his dignity under the influence of his load

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

were as funny as a circus clown's. Steadying himself by an effort, he would throw his head up, thrust his chest out, lower his wings till they dragged on the ground and then try to strut among his hens with the domineering pomposity of his sober days. His strut invariably ended in his falling ignominiously on his nose, and his struggles to regain his equilibrium were equal to the drunken gymnastics of Toodles.

"The exhibition the intoxicated gobbler made of himself created unmistakable surprise, if not disgust, in his harem, and the hens would draw apart in groups and watch the antics of their lord in shocked silence. The turkey never failed to get drunker and drunker and at last would totter and fall and give up to the influence of the liquor. Then was the time to kill, the bird, and its head was cut off while the turkey was in its stupor. That custom is fortunately obsolete now. I don't think it would be a very inspiring sight for one to witness nowadays, but in the old times the stiffest teetotaler didn't seem to see anything wrong in making the Thanksgiving turkey drunk. I suppose that would come under the head of cruelty to animals now. At any rate, it should."

SENSATIONAL CHARGES AS TO JURORS' CONDUCT

Attorney for Charles W. Morse Endeavoring to Secure New Trial for Wealthy Man.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Sensational charges of misconduct against the jurors who convicted Charles W. Morse were made by Attorney Martin W. Littleton when he appeared before the United States Court of Appeals yesterday to demand a new trial for his wealthy client.

Morse is now under sentence of fifteen years in Federal prison for illegal banking practice. Mr. Littleton is confident of securing a new trial, but he fails he will push his appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Littleton makes several amazing charges, and declares he has proof in the shape of affidavits of everything.

Juror Was Alcoholic.

He charges that at the moment the verdict of guilty was reached, which resulted in the financier being sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment, the juror was suffering so much from the effects of alcohol that he was unable to stand, and was lying on a cot in the jury room. He says he has an affidavit from the juror himself to that effect.

He charges that another juror was throughout the trial mentally incapable of considering the involved evidence, as he had been several times in the hospital following alcoholic excesses. He says he has affidavits from physicians and relatives attesting to this.

He not only these two men, but also of the members of the jury and of the twelve guards drank whiskey together daily and nightly at the Astor House, where they were lodged, according to the lawyer's affidavits.

Went on Joy Rides.

He says on Sunday and holidays, he and they all went about together in an automobile, going to Coney Island, to Van Cortland Park and to various hotels, and treating each other to beer and whiskey, wherever they went. Both jurors and guards admit these trips, the attorney says.

In addition to this state of affairs, Mr. Littleton asserts that the guards who attended the jurors were openly prejudiced against Morse and didn't hesitate to tell the jurors how they felt. The head attendant, in fact, Morse's attorney, says, remarked: "I hope they send that fellow to jail, and I'd like to have the job of taking him there."

"I am basing my appeal on the fact that the law says a defendant in any sort of a suit must have the clear, unprejudiced and unclouded judgment of twelve of his peers," Mr. Littleton said.

Condition Is New Record.

"I think I can prove beyond doubt that Mr. Morse didn't have the unclouded judgment of these jurors—at least some of them. I have an affidavit from a juror admitting that a few hours before he voted 'guilty' he was under the attendance of a doctor noted as a specialist in alcoholic cases. And the Federal prosecutors knew this, too."

"I never heard of such a condition among jurors and their attendants. And these men, drinking whiskey constantly, were to pass upon evidence so complicated and involved that the court itself admitted it was very hard to understand."

Mr. Littleton said that ever since the trial of Morse, which concluded in November, 1908, various persons told him of unusual goings on between the jurors and their attendants. He put these statements down as the imaginings of cranks, he said, until recently, when Morse's sentence of fifteen years' imprisonment was affirmed. Then he investigated, and, he said, was amazed to find that the conditions described to him were altogether true.

Grandson Also Perishes in a Fire Which Destroyed Home of the Law Maker—Wife Escaped.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—Representative David A. DeArmond, one of the oldest and most prominent Democratic members of Congress, and his grandson, Waddie, aged 6, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the DeArmond home at Butler, Mo., early today.

Other members of the family escaped, and it is believed none of them were hurt. Neither the body of Congressman DeArmond nor that of the grandson is yet recovered. It is believed they were incinerated. Bones believed to be those of the Congressman were found by sarchers this morning.

Other occupants in the house who escaped were Mrs. DeArmond and their son and daughter.

THE MARION COUNTY FAIR.

Will Be Held at Ocala November 24, 25 and 26.

OCALA, Nov. 23.—Everything is now in readiness at the fair grounds and large shipments of exhibits are arriving daily. Secretary Williams has returned from a tour through the country in search of exhibits and reports an unusually successful trip.

All indications point to a most successful display of products from Marion's fertile soil. The amusement program is unusually attractive and will be a feature of the big event.

The racing feature will be of special interest to everyone in the State. More than 1,000 loads of the best top dressing were used in repaving the track, after which it was soaked down and then rolled.

The management have worked diligently for the past three months and have spent considerable money in making the forthcoming event, which will eclipse any similar event ever held in Florida.

As an object lesson of what Florida soil can do when intelligently cultivated, the fair will be something that will amply repay any farmer to see.

ENTOMBED MEN FOUGHT TO PROTECT THE SICK

Story of Desperate Fight Waged in Depths of Mine Told by Rescued Party.

CHERRY, Ill., November 23.—The story of a desperate fight waged in the depths of the mine by one faction of the twenty-one entombed miners against another was told here yesterday by Ine Antoniese, one of the rescued party.

According to Antoniese's account the saving of the sick men was accomplished only after one group, headed by a brawny miner, whose name all refuse to divulge, had been overpowered by the other. The defeated faction apparently adopted as its motto: "might makes right," while the second was bound together by the principle that the strong should protect the weak. Bitter personalities were exchanged, blows were struck, and finally knives were drawn.

Antoniese's story is confirmed in part by W. H. Cleland and Walter Waite, two of the leaders of the rescued men. Both refused to tell the name of the leader of the other faction or the number of men composing it.

The men quarreled over the water. There were three sick men, Franco Zannarani, Daniel Walowczak and George Eddy. A group, headed by Cleland and Waite, insisted that the sick men should have the first call upon the small supply of water that seeped into the shallow pits dug in the veins of coal.

At least one other man, physically stronger than his fellows, tried to take the water from the sick. His plea was "let the sick men die. Nothing but a miracle can save us, anyway. Why should we sacrifice our own lives, who have a fighting chance, by giving our precious water to those who are doomed?"

For the first three days there was trouble over the division of the scant supply of water, and finally blows were struck, according to Antoniese.

"We found," continued Antoniese, "someone was pushing Walowczak, the weakest of our party, away from the water and stealing it. He was too weak to resist, and at first did not tell anyone of his loss."

"After he told us, a secret guard was established over him, and we soon found the man who was stealing the water. We gave him a bad beating and he resisted, finally drawing a knife and began slashing about him. Then we felled him with an ax handle, and dragged him into a corner. After that we had no trouble, but still maintained a guard over the sick men."

"After six days the rebellion died out. The suffering and imminence of death brought us all together. The men who fought made their peace with each other, and we became a united band, determined to stick together until death ended our tortures or we were saved."

Mrs. W. P. Tompkins Friday evening from 7 to 10:30. Their lovely home was decorated with potted ferns and flowers of different kinds. Most of the time was spent in playing games. Delightful refreshments were served in the hall throughout the evening, and everyone had a good time, and left hoping to spend another evening so pleasantly again soon.

Among the latest visitors from the North is J. M. Bounds of Jamestown, N. Y. He has spent the last few winters here and likes Florida so well that he is making preparations this time to move here. Mr. Bounds owns a nice orange grove here upon which he expects to build. We will all royally welcome him as a citizen of our thriving little town.

The water in Lochloosa lake is rapidly decreasing on account of the draught and if the water gets much lower it will almost be impossible to go through the creek that joins Lochloosa and Orange lakes with launches, and that would cut a big figure, too, because there are lots of truck and oranges hauled over from there and shipped from Lochloosa.

Line White Men of Posse Shot by Drunken Negroes

WILSON, S. C., Nov. 20.—Following days of intense excitement with a riot of serious proportions, caused as a result of the whole-shouldering of a deputy sheriff's by drunken negroes in the east-ern part of the city late Saturday night, a quiet prevails here tonight and officials believe they have the situation well in hand.

Negroes who did the shooting to their escape and this probably was the fact that further disturbances were not recorded yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon one of the negroes charged with the shooting was arrested and lodged in jail. Three others for whom warrants were issued have not been apprehended.

Repeating efforts on the part of Deputy Sheriff A. F. Small to stop the noisy revelry at a "trailer" Saturday night he, with a small party of citizens, started to the latter opened fire with shot-guns, wounding nine members of the party here, including the deputy who received wounds in each bert Brandon, shot in face and body; H. L. Timmons, shot in legs; Rudolph Lowe, both legs peppered with shot; Earl Bolling, shot in body; Albert Wright, body peppered with shot; Grady Reynolds, shot in head and body.

One negro was found in the house seriously wounded. It is said that he was within range of his companions' shots when the attack was made upon the officers.

Sheriff G. G. Long was summoned and immediately went to the scene with a posse armed with repeating rifles. The negroes had fled, however, and the sheriff and his men directed their attention to a systematic search of the negro section for the guilty ones, but without result. A large quantity of whiskey was found in the house occupied by the negroes. Later the wounded negro was found by the officers near the house, where they had crawled after his companions.

Dye is the most seriously wounded of those shot, but it is not thought his wounds will prove fatal. Eighty-three shots were removed from his body.

* A little want ad. will accomplish big results.

Others wounded were, W. A. Harris, shot in chest and arm; and Harris, shot in legs; Har-

Two Killed, Four Injured, At An Alabama Dance

POINT CLEAR, Ala., Nov. 23.—Because the daughter of Simon Nelson refused to dance with Wesley McKenzie at a social affair being given in her own home at Barnwell, 16 miles southeast of Point Clear, in the lower section of Baldwin county, a bloody duel followed. Two men are dead, four are injured and four are under arrest on the charge of murder.

The dead are: Bert Pierce, beaten to death and head crushed; Mack McKenzie, shot in the left side, and bullet ranging upward and entering the heart.

The wounded are: John Farley, two brothers of the dead Pierce boy and one of the McKenzie brothers.

It is said that on Saturday night a dance was being given at the home of Simon Nelson at Barnwell, at which about thirty persons were present. According to the story told by officers investigating the case, Wesley McKenzie approached Miss Nelson and asked her to dance with him. She is said to have refused on the ground that he was drinking, and then began cursing in her presence. A general fight followed with the above result.

The first job office in the place is now your calling cards accepted.

ENDURANCE CARS MADE GOOD TIME

CONFETTI CAR ARRIVED HERE
BEFORE TIME EXPECTED.

Warm Welcome Awaited Cars Following, Which Came at Regular Intervals—Two Cars Were Lost.

From Wednesday's Daily:

The arrival of the official automobile, or the confetti car, in the Tampa to Tampa, via Jacksonville, endurance run, which rolled into the checking line in this city on its upward trip at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, was a signal that there were eighteen more machines to follow in this great endurance race, and the machine had no sooner stopped than it was surrounded by an enthusiastic crowd who had been watching for the first car for half an hour. It may be said that excellent time was made, as the confetti, or advance car, reached Gainesville a half hour before it was expected, and from that time on the checking station, of which the Gainesville Garage and Machine Company had charge, was busy checking in the various machines.

The confetti car contained L. D. Reagin, representing The Tampa Times, B. Marion Reed, official pilot, and W. P. Henderson, of the Tampa Harness and Wagon Company, all enthusiasts in the question of good highways. This car made the running time from Tampa in nine hours and twenty minutes.

Roads Are Good.

In speaking of the condition of the roads, Mr. Reagin stated that they are in fairly good condition, considering the time in which those interested at various points along the route had to get them ready. From Tampa to Plant City there is a fine paved road; from Plant City to Dade City there is some pavement, but a great deal of straw, but this straw has been apparently carefully selected and laid, with the result that the roadway is good. From Dade City a Brooksville and Inverness, the road is fairly good. There is no hard road between Brooksville and Inverness, but the highway has been well provided with pine straw, which made an excellent roadway, flexible and easy. Between Inverness and Dunnellon the road is paved, but there are some new stretches recently "worked over" which are exceptionally smooth and fine. From Dunnellon to Ocala, paved, but in poor condition. From Ocala to Gainesville the road is very good, especially for a few miles out of Ocala, which is one of the finest stretches for about eight miles in the country, hard, smooth and reliable. There are several short gaps between Ocala and Gainesville, but these are well provided with straw, which makes the running comparatively easy. From

CITY COUNCIL HAD INTERESTING MEETMATTERS FOR CONSIDERATION
FEW BUT IMPORTANT.Accounts of Board of Public Works
To Be Audited by Expert—Minors
Can Buy No More Cigarettes.

The City Council met in adjourned session Monday evening, there being present Alderman Broome, president; Aldermen Burnett, Goodwin, Colclough, Graves, Phifer and Pound, and Clerk Dell, as well as a number of spectators who were interested in the proceedings in either one way or another.

The first business to come before the council was an important measure, specially to parents and guardians of the city. It was an ordinance, No. 1, being entitled, "An Ordinance to Prohibit the Sale of Cigarettes or Cigarette Papers to Minors," etc., which ordinance imposes a heavy penalty for the offender, and which is intended to break up the deplorable practice of selling or giving away to minors any cigarette, cigarette papers, or cigarette material.

Alderman Burnett introduced this ordinance, and moved that the ordinance be placed upon its first reading, which was carried, and the instrument was read and adopted.

Upon motion of Alderman Burnett the rules were waived, the ordinance read on its second reading, and passed, after a few amendments of a trivial nature.

The ordinance having been passed on its second reading, a motion preceded that the rules be waived and the instrument be placed on its third and final reading, which was carried, and the ordinance was passed, title in full, and has become a law, having been signed and approved by the mayor.

Board Wants Investigation.

A communication was received from W. W. Hampton, secretary of the Board of Public Works, which said substance that, owing to some criticism regarding the condition of the city's accounts, the incompleteness of its reports, etc., as regards expenditures in the various funds, an investigation under the direction of an auditor was desired and requested. This communication was upon motion received, and caused some discussion among members of the council, all of which tended to show a desire to employ an expert auditor, the question in a way as to who should be empowered to employ this auditor. No one of the council doubted the honesty and sincerity of the members comprising the Board of Public Works, but the desire seemed to be to secure a correct accounting of the expenditures and condition of the various funds, which it was claimed had never been secured.

Alderman Burnett moved that the committee formerly appointed for the purpose of the checking up of these accounts, and in a very forceful talk support of his motion, recited as stated above, where the reports of various former auditors had nothing, but "lumped" the accounts or cash on hand, without giving or crediting any specific fund to that amount which should be paid to it.

Alderman Pound offered a substitute to the motion that the Mayor, Chairman of the Finance Committee, be empowered to employ an auditor for the purpose of correctly checking up the accounts. Alderman Burnett offered an amendment to the effect that this committee be employed from some reputable auditing company, which amendment was accepted, when the substitute was adopted and carried.

Want the Street Fixed.

Aldermen Eddins and Pedrick, residents of West Main street S., which street has been in a deplorable condition for the past few years, owing to the indisposition of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, the tracks of which traverse this thoroughfare, appeared before the council in reference to the condition of this street. Mr. Eddins told the council the same old story of the impassable condition of the street, of the extreme and unreasonable elevation of the railroad track, and the deep gulches and other depressions which had been caused by the water rushing from the bed of the track down either side, making it impossible for a team to use the street at all.

It was evident that Messrs. Eddins and Pedrick had the sympathy of those present, as it must be admitted this thoroughfare has been in a disgraceful condition for a long time, notwithstanding that the city has exercised every effort to compel the Atlantic Coast Line to make the necessary repairs, or to lower the bed of the track in order that the street might be properly repaired.

As a temporary relief, the Street Committee was instructed to level up the street as far as possible, and in the meantime the city attorney will confer with the proper authorities with a view of compelling the railroad to lower the track and put the street in a passable condition.

Wants Nuisances Abated.

Alderman Colclough called the attention of the council to the unsanitary condition of certain lots and streets in the city, as well as the rear of certain places, which have been used as dumping grounds for slops, fish entrails, and other filth. He grew earnest in condemning the action of those who insisted on violating the sanitary law, and concluded his argument with a motion that the Sanitary Committee be instructed to suppress all his filth, as well as see that all surface yard privies be abolished, where sewer connections have been made. This motion created some opposition as regards the latter, but it was put to vote and carried, only two aldermen, one of whom stated his reason for voting against it, on account of "the servants in the house."

Upon motion of Alderman Graves, the Mayor was instructed to have obstructions on Seventh street, North Gainesville, removed, after which the council adjourned.

FAMILY CURED OF SKIN TROUBLES

Two Little Girls had Eczema—Very Badly—In One Case Child's Hair Came Out and Left Bare Patches—Father's Head Sore from Childhood—In All Three Cases

CUTICURA MET WITH ITS USUAL SUCCESS

"I have two little girls who have been troubled very badly with eczema. One of them had it on her lower limbs. I did everything that I could hear of for her, but it did not give in until warm weather when it seemingly subsided. The next winter when it became cold weather the eczema started again and also in her head where it would take the hair out and leave bare patches as large as a quarter of a dollar. At the same time her arms were sore the whole length of them. I took her to a physician and he said that she had two distinct types of eczema. I continued with him for several weeks and the child grew worse all of the time. Her sister's arms were also affected in the same way. My husband came home one day with a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I began using them and also the Cuticura Pills and by the time the second lot was used their skin was soft and smooth as it had not been before for the winter. We keep the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment constantly by us and when any little roughness or irritation appears on their skin I quickly dispel it with the Cuticura Remedy. My husband has used them with most satisfactory results for a sore head which has troubled him from childhood. Mrs. Charles Baker, Albion, Me., Sept. 21, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful remedies for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, of infants, children and adults, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed by mild doses of Cuticura Pills, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.), and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston. Mail Free. Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

LOTS ARE GOING FAST.

Surveyor Patton Reports a Vigorous Influx to Worthington.

"There's no use talking, old Worthington is certainly on a boom," remarked Surveyor J. W. Patton, who has been in that town surveying for the past few days. He came home to spend Sunday, returning Monday to his duties.

Mr. Patton states that the owners of the land are selling lots as fast as he can stake them off, and that if this keeps up Worthington is bound to get on a genuine boom before a great while, as many purchasers intend to erect homes and business houses.

Zion City, another tract adjoining Worthington just across the Santa Fe river, is also threatened with a boom, as this tract has been set aside as a big State camping ground for the colored people.

WHY DO WE GIVE THANKS?

As we look backward on the year, and on the years, why should we be thankful? For life, its pleasures, its enjoyments, its good; for its sorrows and disappointments even, for are they not often part of the ministry of heaven to make us better? For friends, for parents, for children, and for the Great Friend who leaves us not when others sometimes fail.

For the kindly fruits of the earth which have come to us, the products of our labor conjoined with the blessing of God. For who of us, of himself alone, can make one ear of corn, one leaf? For our fathers who won for us the right of self-government. For peace and the prospect of greater peace must we as a nation give thanks. A wide peace which will forever brood over the three nations on this continent giving an example and inspiration to the less favorably situated people of the old world, and lifting them up we hope to its emulation.

For the spirit of progress, for the reform of old evils, for the pruning of corruption from the body politic we can give thanks; not only for good accomplished but for the augury of greater and better things to come. For our churches and our schools, and for the millions of happy pure homes which dot this continent. For the fact that we are not a nation of the past, a decaying nation, but a nation of the present and the future. For the great openings up of Nature's wondrous secrets which seem now to be coming upon us. For larger, cleaner, healthier thought, and for the old truth, old and ever new, that this God is our God for ever and ever. He will be our guide even unto death.

The State ought to pay the premiums won by exhibitors at the State Fair held at Tampa. These premiums were guaranteed by act of the Legislature, and the exhibits were made by many persons at an expense which they otherwise would not have incurred.

If Ex-Governor Broward has not entirely forsaken his erstwhile habit of instituting suits for libel against newspaper men who see fit to criticize his official acts, our friend Albert Williamson, of The Jacksonville Floridian, may as well retain a lawyer to defend such a suit. The last issue of The Floridian certainly hit the Ex-Governor some sledge-hammer blows.

Manager Gillette of the Florida Fruit Exchange, like some politicians we could name, "put his foot in it" when he asserted that most of the newspapers had been "bought up." There was no excuse for such an assertion on the part of Mr. Gillette, and he made a bad break when he penned the words. The Florida editors have no reason to be especially friendly to the Northern commission merchants, and simply because some of them criticized the management of the Fruit Exchange gave no excuse for such an insult to the press in general. If Manager Gillette cannot stand a little criticism without "losing his head," as he has recently, the sooner he is deposed the better it will be for the Exchange.

BE CHARITABLE.

Simply because he sees fit to advocate local option instead of State-wide prohibition, a few Florida editors have referred to John Trice's new paper, "Florida," as the "whiskey organ," and otherwise berated that excellent publication. We fail to see how Mr. Trice's paper is any more of a "whiskey organ" than The Times-Union, Tampa Tribune and other papers opposed to State-wide prohibition. He is advocating what he deems to be for the best interests of the whole State the same thing that the framers of our constitution incorporated into the organic law, and the same thing that was overwhelmingly endorsed by the people in the nomination and election of Albert W. Gilchrist as Governor. Some of our temperance friends hug to themselves the idea that all is evil in the man who opposes State-wide prohibition and advocates local option (or home rule) in lieu thereof. In this they are mistaken. Some of the best and purest men in Florida are honestly and conscientiously opposed to State-wide prohibition, because they do not believe it to be the best thing for the State. It is nothing less than a farce in Georgia, they say, especially so far as Savannah and other places are concerned, and they contend that the same conditions would prevail in Jacksonville, Tampa, Pensacola and other places in Florida where public sentiment is opposed to the prohibition law.

Temperance people are not all prohibitionists, by any means. Take Lafayette county, which recently voted to again license the sale of liquor. Few, if any, negroes voted in that election, and the county was voted wet by a majority of the white people. Can the prohibitionists truthfully say that some of those who favored the license system are not just as honest and upright citizens as those who favored the prohibition side?

The contest for State-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic is not going to be won by a browbeating and bullying campaign, for the people stamped their disapproval upon such tactics in the contest between Gilchrist and Stockton. The prohibitionists have got to wage a campaign for reason and logic, and not depend too much upon appealing to sentiment, as they have in the past. Sentiment does not last long with the man who is "shown" that his taxes will be considerably increased by the adoption of State-wide prohibition, and that is just what those opposed to prohibition are going to endeavor to do.

Throw off that "holier than thou" spirit, and at least give some people credit for being as honest as yourself, though they may not agree with you on public questions.

BONDING FOR HARD ROADS.

The News is in favor of bonding Volusia county for the purpose of building hardroads. Because: Bonding gives us the money for immediate use and allows us to pay it back while we are getting the use of the roads for which the money is spent.

But before we agree to support any bonding proposition, several things must be settled.

First—By whom is the money to be spent?

Second—How is the money to be spent? (What roads are to be improved and what material is to be used?)

Third—For many years the people of Volusia county have been heavily taxed and the money spent on roads. A road would be improved one year and abandoned for another route the year following. This is all right for a small man—a man may have to put up with a small engine this year, knowing that he needs a large and more expensive one to do the best work. He may have to buy the cheaper piece of machinery, use it a year or two, then discard it for a better machine. It is the same in a city, a county or a State. But our roads have in the past been built haphazard, wherever and whenever a member of the board of county commissioners listed. The time has come when we must build permanently and with a view to the future. Good roads are no longer an experiment—they are a necessity to a civilized community.

Before a bond issue is submitted, an experienced civil engineer should be employed, and he, with the board, should map out a permanent system of roads ramifying the county. It may not—probably will not—be possible to build all the roads at once, or within the next five or ten years; but the plan should be drawn to meet future needs for many years to come. There also should be main lines of roads, built of the very best material, that will last for generations, or at least until the bonds are paid for; there should be laterals, running from the main roads, built of a cheaper grade of material; there should be a third and even a fourth grade, connecting the smaller settlements—and thus benefiting the greatest possible number of people.

At an expense of about $100,000, we have built a road across the county that is today barely more than a streak of dust and holes. It is going to ruin for the want of proper attention. The commissioners state that there is no money available with which to make repairs. If we cannot care for $100,000 worth of shell road, what will we do when we add $250,000 worth of roads to our present troubles?

There is considerable doubt in the minds of many of our largest taxpayers as to the advisability of building more shell roads. Counties like Duval and Hillsborough have abandoned them as too expensive to maintain. Shall Volusia county continue to build more shell roads, and let them go to ruin after they are built?

Before we bond for $250,000, or any other amount, it will be best for us to determine just how much we shall want, and what we are going to do with it after we get it.—DeLand News.

The Sun has been giving the question of bonding Alachua county for the construction of good roads some consideration for the past few months. Like The News, we favor bonding for this purpose, but we want to know where the roads are to be built, what material is to be used, by whom the money is to be spent, etc. In fact, The News expresses exactly what has been revolving in our mind for some time. We believe a bond issue could be engineered in such a way as to give us two hundred miles or more of hard roads without increasing the present rate of taxation a single penny, but like The News, we have "got to be shown" before The Sun will agree to support such a bond issue.

Our columns are open to a discussion of the subject, and we invite communications along this line.

Pate Sims, the High Springs lad who was convicted of beating his way on a railroad train, was released by Judge Willis pending good behavior. Pate is only eighteen years old, and has probably figured in court circles more than any boy of his age in Florida, though his only conviction prior to the recent term of court was for vagrancy, for which he served three months. Pate is not a bad boy in appearance, and it is to be hoped that he will not abuse the trust reposed in him by the kind-hearted Judge. Sheriff Ramsey paid the boy's railroad fare to Flivay, where his father resides, and if he again gets into trouble he need not expect any leniency at the hands of court officials. The Sun hopes that Pate will "make good." He is a bright lad, and it is probable that evil minded associates are more responsible for his past actions than anything else.

While a complete list of football fatalities will not be made up until after Thanksgiving, the death list up to date makes it clear that if the game is to retain its hold on popular favor radical revision of its rules must be made. A commission composed of army and navy officers might be appointed to adopt rules which would be accepted as a model by the universities of the country.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE T. & J. RAILROAD

Interesting Session, at Which Officers for Year Were Elected---A. L. Glass Promoted.

The annual meeting of the Tampa and Jacksonville Railway Company was held Saturday afternoon in the general offices of the company in this city.

There were present A. P. Stuckey of Ocala, president; B. W. Blount, Jacksonville, vice-president; F. M. Simonton, Tampa, secretary; J. B. Munson, Macon, Ga., A. deSola Mendes, Savannah, Ga., and A. L. Glass, general superintendent of the road, with headquarters in this city.

During the meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

A. P. Stuckey, president; A. deSola Mendes, first vice-president; B. W. Blount, second vice-president; F. M. Simonton, secretary; H. E. Taylor, treasurer; A. L. Glass, promoted from, general superintendent, which office was abolished, to general manager.

It is learned that the election of Mr. Mendes as first vice-president is the result of recent negotiations in New York, under which some of the bonds of the company were sold, and an option taken on the balance, which will be exercised if the company is enabled to make a sufficiently good showing during the next six months.

The success of this company's efforts to finance its needs and contemplated extensions to either Dunnellon or Ocala, depends a great deal upon the support which the people in this section will give in the way of favoring them with all possible traffic. It is hoped that the merchants of Gainesville who have not shown much disposition in the past to help this local enterprise which, with their assistance, could be developed into a through line to Tampa, traversing a territory in agriculture, phosphate and timber, will see fit by liberal patronage to make possible these results, which will be of incalculable value to the country.

During the past administration the service on this road has been admittedly poor; but during the past two years, under the able management of A. L. Glass, general superintendent, a considerable change for the better has been noted, and we are glad to see this good work on the part of Mr. Glass recognized by his promotion to be general manager.

State Gains Much Land By Supreme Court Decision

The Jacksonville Metropolis of last Friday contains the following important information to owners of property fronting on lakes in this State:

"About two years ago suits were instituted on behalf of the owners of lands around Lake Miccosukee, in Jefferson county, and Lake Jackson, in Leon county, against the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, claiming the land lying between the meander line of the abutting property owners and the center of the lake. It seems that in recent years, from some reason not fully understood, these lakes have dried up, and the lake beds, amounting to about five thousand acres, have become valuable for pasturage or cultivation.

"The circuit court decided in effect that the abutting owners did own the lands between the meander lines and the center of the lakes, in some cases extending a distance of two miles and including an area of land many times greater than the tract owned by the complainant.

"The supreme court of Florida has just announced a decision reversing the decree of the circuit court and sustaining the title of the State to the lake beds, including all lands lying between the meander lines of the lakes, as shown by the United States surveys, and the center of the lakes.

"The decisions are exceedingly important, on account of the hundreds of lakes in Florida where similar questions would arise had the decree of the lower court been sustained, holding in effect that the owners of lands bordering around all of the lakes in Florida were also the owners of the lake beds in front of their property. Such a construction of the law would in many instances entitle the owners of a small tract of ten or twenty acres to extend their lines two or three miles into the center of the lake. It would seem, however, from these decisions, which are final, that the principle involved the title of owners of lands fronting upon inland lakes is limited to the meander line or edge of the lake, as shown by the Government surveys, excepting, of course, that they are entitled to the riparian rights that belong to all water front property."

THE TRAIN WAS LATE.

Went "Dead" at Gracy's Mill and Made Passengers Impatient. From Tuesday's Daily Sun: Train No. 39, Jacksonville to St. Petersburg over the Atlantic Coast Line, due to arrive in Gainesville at 12:30 p. m., leaving at 12:50, went "dead" on the curve at Gracy's siding Monday, with the result that there was a large number of people, both aboard the train and waiting here, who became impatient. The train was delayed two hours and forty-five minutes, reaching Gainesville at 3:15 p. m.

The delay was caused by the blowing out, or bursting, of a flue in the boiler of Engine 13, which as a rule is a mighty faithful servant. There being no telegraph station between this point and Burnett's Lake, the railroad officials became a little uneasy and dispatched another engine after the disabled train.

A JOYFUL PASTIME.

Really a Pleasure to Cure Catarrh by Breathing Hyomei. It isn't a pleasure to saturate your stomach with vile nostrums or to rock the tender membrane of the nose and throat with disagreeable sprays and douches. But strange to say there are a few thousand people who do not keep abreast of the times who are hoping against hope that these ancient methods will rid them of catarrh. If the readers of The Sun who suffer from catarrh want to banish this vile and disgusting disease forever go to W. McCollum & Co. today and get complete Hyomei (pronounced High-mee) outfit for $1.00. If it doesn't cure it won't cost you a cent because they will give you your money back.

Hyomei is so simple and pleasant to use; pour a few drops from the bottle into the inhaler and breathe in. As it passes over the membrane it goes into the lungs with the air you breathe it soothes the raw membrane and kills the catarrh germs. Don't experiment longer. Leading druggists everywhere sell Hyomei for catarrh, colds, bronchitis, etc. Drop postal for our free book, Booth's Famous People, Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Doctor's First Question

"How are your bowels?" This is generally the first question the doctor asks. He knows what a sluggish liver means. He knows what a long list of distressing complaints result from constipation. He knows that headaches, bilious attacks, indigestion, impure blood, and general debility are often promptly relieved by a good liver pill. We wish you would talk with your own doctor about this subject. Ask him at the same time if he approves of Ayer's Pills. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

J. Carpenter of Tampa, who will perform the ceremony, has also arrived from LaFayette county, where he has been on a visit to friends for the past few days.

HEROES OF PEACE.

Most people are greatly affected by the spectacular, and because of this and the glamor and excitement of war the deeds of naval and military heroes will always appeal to people with unusual force. But let it not be forgotten that there are heroes of peace, many of them, and that their deeds are just as noble and just as self-sacrificing as those of men who on the field of battle form a forlorn hope or rush with unswerving courage into the jaws of death.

Heroes of peace are found in every walk of life and in every situation. In mine and workshop, in field and forest, they are always to be found in every time of need to risk or even lose their lives in the attempt to save their fellow creatures from danger and death. Not a week passes but the pulse beats quicker and faith in humanity is strengthened because of heroic deeds done not to destroy life, but to save it. At one time it is the story of one who burns slowly to death as he remains steadfastly at the helm of the burning ship that the living freight may escape in safety. At another the record is that of some locomotive engineer who, with equal fidelity to duty, stands to his post when disaster is certain, and dies that others may live.

And today people talk of a terrible mining catastrophe and of hundreds meeting death far down in the lower workings. And mingled with sentiments of deepest pity is the glow of pride as they read of the rescuing party going down into the inferno of smoke and fire and deadly gas to rescue their fellows. They go down once too often, and are brought to the surface blackened and disfigured corpses. They sealed their devotion to duty and humanity by their lives.

Such instances show how much goodness, compassion, self-denial and self-sacrifice exists on this earth. It is well to remember this whenever we think that the world is given over to selfishness and an eternally listening to the ring of the dollar.

A STRONG POINT.

A strong point, effectively brought out by Prof. Geo. M. Lynch, of the State University, in an address at an educational rally in Live Oak recently, says The Tampa Times, is the following, which ought to induce some very serious thinking on the part of taxpayers and those who appoint the teachers in our public schools:

"Under our system now in operation, incompetent, inexperienced, irresponsible boys and girls, with no higher motive than to earn a few dollars, are vested with the sacred responsibility and power of training the youth. We need better teachers in our country schools, men and women of culture, refinement and intelligence; earnest, conscientious and quick in the discharge of duty. When we secure these teachers we should pay them decent salaries and protect them from the personal whims and will-o'-the-wisp ideas of the human variables—the accident of ballots sometimes places in charge of our country schools."

The Lakeland News says that both Frank Clark and the public have always greatly over-estimated that Congressman's ability. Clark has now been prominently before the public for the last 25 years and if the public has not been able in that time to properly take his measurement it would better go out of the business of measuring politicians of his kind. It is very probable that after the next primary several politicians will find that they did not put a proper measurement upon him. Wait and see. As to Clark's own estimate of himself he is either pretty tall or holds a long pole, for he generally brings down the persimmon.—Leesburg Commercial.

Colonial Holidays

THE open fireplace, the crackling logs, the roasting chestnuts, the jingle of sleighbells, the snow-mantled guests!

The festive board—the spotless linen—the quaint, old china, the family silver brought from its hiding place! The pride in that silver!

And now—your family silver? Is it the "Colonial" made in the historic old town of Newburyport, Massachusetts? If so, you have equal pride in yours.

This splendid pattern in Sterling Silver reflects all the courtly grace and dignity with which your great-grandfather led the cotillion or dispensed the hospitalities of the feast.

Are you prepared for your Holiday carving? We propose a bird set in the "Colonial" for your own use, or as an acceptable gift. Made in a complete table service.
